Firpo And Young Woman Held By Authorities

(By JACK DARROW)
(United Press Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 21.—(By the United Press)—Louis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight who arrived here today for a match with Harry Wills, was taken to Ellis Island on a technical charge that his passport was improperly issued.
The case of Firpo and his companion will be heard tomorrow by a special board of inquiry on Ellis Island.
With the boxer was taken Senorita Blanca Lourdes, who occupied a state room adjoining Firpo's during the voyage from Buenos Aires aboard the Munson Line Steamship American Legion. Senorita Lourdes, passport was taken from her and she and the "wild bull of the pampas" were detained under her attempt to leave the liner with him.
Firpo's manager, Eduardo Carbone, and a sparring partner, also were taken to the island, where they were held as material witnesses.
Tex Rickard, under whose auspices Firpo is making his third trip to the United States, in search of fame, endeavored to straighten matters out with immigration authorities aboard the American Legion, without avail.
The Senorita told them she was Firpo's secretary, but under questioning, demonstrated complete ignorance of shorthand, stenography or typing.
Those who met the fighter at quarantine had commented on his sprightly appearance. The erstwhile slovenly, awkward South American had spruced up, was neatly dressed and appeared in high spirits. He had just given out an interview, saying Jack Dempsey was lucky to win when they met last time, and that he would take the heavyweight championship back to Buenos Aires when immigration officials stepped in, and Firpo's troubles, like those of Jack Johnson, began.

Five Children Burn To Death In Home

MERCER, PA., July 21.—(By the United Press)—Five children were burned to death in a farm house near here today while their mother looked on.
The dead, ranging in age from nine months to nine years, were children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hedgelin, living near Sandy Lake.
Their bodies were taken from the ruins. They had huddled together in a corner, driven back from escaping through the windows by the smoke and flames.
The Dead

Fred, 9 months.
The father, Fred Hedgelin, had gone away to work early and Mrs. Hedgelin was in the garden when she turned at the screen of one of the children and saw the entire first floor of her home in flames.
Realizing that it would be impossible to save the children by attempting to make her way to the second floor, the mother stood outside and begged her children to leave the burning house. Only Evan, 7, seemed to understand, and he leaped into his mother's arms, and was only slightly injured.
Looking up Mrs. Hedgelin saw her other children driven back from the window and knew that they were lost.

"VAMPIRE MURDERER" SAID TO HAVE KILLED SEVENTEEN

HANOVER, GERMANY, July 21.—Fritz Haarmann, known as the "Vampire Murderer," has been charged with 17 murders in an indictment filed today. Police believe he will be able to prove his guilt in at least eight other cases. Numerous disappearances reported in various parts of Germany are being traced to his house where the crimes were committed.
Eight officials at police headquarters here have been dismissed from the service because of allegations that they were involved in the Haarmann orgies.
Dr. Kopp, criminologist of the ministry of the interior, says that Haarmann "is unquestionably a strangely psychopathic and presents a bewildering combination of unnatural impulses." Haarmann claims that he was unconscious when slaying his victims.
Most of the murdered men were said to have been "floaters" who were grateful for a night's lodging or a drink of brandy with which Haarmann is said to have drugged them. Haarmann admitted that he usually strangled the men while they were asleep.

The freighter was an old vessel without radio and carrying no passengers. The survivor said that a typhoon which the general unseaworthiness of the ship rendered her unable to ride out, caused the disaster.

The "Last Man's Club" was formed here in 1891 by 34 surviving members of B. Company, Minnesota Volunteers who fought in the Civil War. A bottle of wine was purchased at the first meeting and it was agreed that the last member should drink a toast to their departed comrades. This year's meeting was held in the First National building. Thirty chairs draped in black, were grouped about the banquet table in memory of members who had died.

ANSONIA, CONN., July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Catherine Bristol, 49, whose funeral was held here yesterday, weighed in excess of six hundred pounds and was buried in a casket weighing 400 pounds, the largest ever used in the state according to the undertaker who supervised the burial.
The woman's death occurred in the third story of a Main street building and a block and fall was used in lowering the casket from the room.
Ten men acting as pallbearers, carried the casket from a house to the grave, a distance of one hundred feet. They were obliged to put it down for rest during the short journey.
Mrs. Bristol's death, physicians say was caused by her increasing weight. She had been unable to leave her home for three years.

Powers Wrangle Over German Rail Control

While plenary delegates discussed the broad phases of the Dawes plan, the committees of experts continued their efforts to reach an agreement on the measures for handling about the fiscal and economic unity of Germany. It is believed this will be realized by tonight, except for the question of railway control which remains a stumbling block to the plans for the evacuation of the Ruhr.

President To Ask For a Republican Congress Democrats Made Shrewd Move; Put Coolidge On The Defensive

(By ROBERT T. SMALL)
(Copyright, 1924)
NEW YORK, July 21.—John W. Davis, candidate of the Democratic party for the presidency, has gone to the wilds of Maine, where he not only will get a good rest before plunging into the campaign, but where he believes he can also get a better perspective on the situation which confronts him. He may remain in seclusion for two weeks or more, for now that the notification ceremonies at Clarkburg have been fixed for August 11, there will be no need for him to hurry back to town.
The Democrats feel they have made a rather shrewd move in having their notification just three days before the Republican ceremony at Washington. At first it was proposed the Democratic function should be held about August 1. Then came the announcement of the Republican date and the Democrats decided to delay their ceremony accordingly. It has been announced that President Coolidge would reply to the Democratic "keynote" by a letter to Mr. Davis. If the Democrats had adhered to their first plans, the president would have had a full fortnight to consider and frame his reply. As matters stand now he will either have to defer the preparation of his speech until three days before his delivery or else go ahead without any reference to the position to be taken by the Democratic candidate.
Most of those who know Mr. Coolidge will believe he will choose the latter course so the two leading opponents in the campaign are expected to be at work simultaneously upon their addresses of acceptance.
Both addresses are likely to be pitched upon a high plane. There will be no personalities in the coming fight so far as the principal figures are concerned. Mr. Coolidge is (Continued on Page Six)

The two officials are no longer of one mind as to police procedure. As a result, Butler, it is understood, will not be retained as head of the safety department after his leave expires on January 5, 1925, and he may even be asked to resign his post at once.

BANDIT REMOVED UNDER GUARD

COLUMBUS, O., July 21.—(United Press)—Joe Urbaytis, notorious Toledo post office bandit, was removed from White Cross hospital under a heavy federal guard today and put aboard a train bound for Toledo. Authorities worked under cover attempting to keep the removal secret until Urbaytis is safely behind the bars in Toledo.
Police and deputy marshals refused to discuss the case.
The bandit was recovering at the hospital from wounds received here last May when he was captured in a running gun battle with Federal Agent Carson.

Surprise Sprung By Counsel For Defense; Judge To Pass On Question of Responsibility

CRIMINAL COURT, CHICAGO, July 21.—(By the United Press)—Dying with the gallows, Nathan Leopold and Richard A. Loeb, millionaire youths and super-intellectuals today pleaded guilty to the murder of Robert Frank, 14-year-old school boy, also the son of a millionaire.
Justice Caverly can sentence them to hang if he so desires.
The prosecution immediately demanded the gallows.
By pleading guilty, Leopold and Loeb have made it impossible for a defense of "insanity" to be argued, Judge Caverly explained to the United Press, interpreting the surprise move of the defense.
"It is not legal, or course," Caverly said "for an insane person to enter a plea of guilty in this state and by entering their pleas, the defendants have cast aside any hope of being proven insane."
Caverly intimated, however, that the defense could show a "degree of moral responsibility" which might and might not affect the sentence of the court.
The action of the boys came like thunder to the crowded court room, filled with overflying by a huge staff of attorneys for both state and defense, members of the Leopold and Loeb families and hundreds of morbidly curious spectators who gained admission despite the efforts of a corps of 25 uniformed policemen and sheriff's deputies.
Charles Darrow, dean of criminal attorneys, who is 67 years old, and has been practicing law for 37 years in Chicago, was the first plea for the boys. He stood erect, throwing his shoulders back, his voice increasing in volume as he spoke, until he fairly shouted that the defendants pleaded guilty.
Judge Caverly, after consulting States' Attorneys Robert E. Crowe, and Darrow, announced that hearing of evidence in the case would begin Wednesday morning, July 23. The hearing will be held by Judge Caverly and without a jury.
The court, under the law of Illinois, may sentence the youths to death. Other sentences which he may pass are life imprisonment or imprisonment for any number of years over 14.

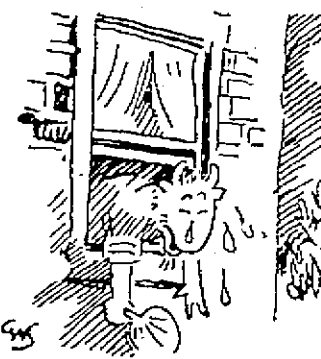

Crowe, dumbfounded and taken entirely by surprise at the plea of guilty, made no attempt to contest the action, but announced that he would call every state's witness to the stand "so that the court may hear all the evidence in the case."
"We will not allow the defense to shut out any evidence by pleading guilty," Crowe said. "These boys, both of them sane and entirely responsible, have committed the direct murder in the history of Chicago. They have come into open court and publicly entered their plea, confessing that they kidnapped and murdered an innocent child."
"The state has a thorough case against these boys. They must hang. Nothing else must be permitted."
Darrow, in his argument, declined any attempts would be made to set the defendants at liberty.
Darrow Says No Attempts
To Be Made To Free Them
"These boys, your honor, have proven themselves unfit to mingle in society. They must not be set free and no attempt toward that end will be made. Although slightly hesitant then when they entered prison, seven weeks ago, the youths were markedly pale from their confinement."
Leopold's eyes, which have been considered unusually bright and searching, were watery. He gazed into space without apparently seeing any one. His aged father, the millionaire president of the Morris Paper Box Company, sat silently in the court room, tears trickling down his rough face.
Loeb, somewhat taller and more erect, faced the court with more composure. His eyes did not waver from Judge Caverly as he declared that he understood the consequences of pleading guilty to murder.
"The only trace of nervousness on Loeb's part was a slight shuffling of his feet."
Loeb's father, Albert H. Loeb, millionaire vice president of Sears-Roebuck Company, was not present. The elder Loeb is seriously ill with heart trouble and a "raging at the summer home" at Charlevoix, Mich. Dickie's mother is also at Charlevoix, but his older brother, Allen, was in court.
The tiny court room packed with light on the sixth floor of the dilapidated criminal court building, just outside of Chicago's loop, was jammed almost to suffocation.
States' Attorney Crowe and his large staff of assistants and Darrow and his defense attorneys—stood in solid mass formation directly in front of Judge Caverly. A large group of newspaper reporters, special correspondents and photographers were also present.

REBELS STILL CONTROL ONE STATE IN BRAZIL REVOLT

(By BRYANT POWERS)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BUENOS AIRES, July 21.—(By the United Press)—Developments in the Brazilian revolutionary situation over the week-end were not reassuring, according to reports reaching the Uruguayan border today, and the rebels still are in control of the major portions of the state of Sao Paulo.
The general advance of the federal forces, scheduled to take place Saturday apparently was not attempted.
Three fires occurred in Sao Paulo City last night, and July 8, according to travelers reaching Montevideo from Santos. The building of the Standard Oil Company was damaged and two other buildings partly destroyed.
Federal forces claim to have shot down one of the rebel airplanes in skirmishing Saturday, according to a communication given out by the Brazilian embassy here.
"Weather conditions in Sao Paulo improved," the communicate said, "allowing reconnoitering movements prevented previously by the heavy clouds. Government troops continue their movement preparatory to the maneuver to which they are about to undertake."

AUTO PLUNGES INTO MILLBROOK LAKE; BOY ALMOST DROWNS

BRADY PROVES TO BE REAL HERO; MACHINE WAS COMPLETELY SUBMERGED

Reuben Tipton, 43, and four-year-old son, both of New Boston, had a narrow escape from drowning in Millbrook lake about five o'clock Sunday afternoon, when their Ford touring car plunged down the lake bank into from 23 to 30 feet of water to avoid a collision with a big touring car that was taking all the road, as it came towards the Tipton machine.

Brady Lee, youth, of 1113 Front street, proved the hero of the hour by rescuing the four-year-old youngster, while several other men, unable to swim, stood by helpless and watched the child go down twice.

The father was able to swim ashore, after freeing himself from the machine, which settled on one side on the bottom of the lake. The scene of the accident was in front of the gasoline filling station, Gallia and Clayport avenues. The machine crashed through the fence on the north side of the lake.

Was Returning Home

Mr. Tipton, who lives at 641 Glenwood avenue, New Boston, had taken several relatives to Lakeside and was returning home when the accident occurred. According to Mr. Tipton, he was driving slowly on account of the rough and narrow condition of the paved road at this point. He says he noticed the large machine coming, but thought that the driver would move over before he reached it. Instead the driver of the larger machine, east bound, kept to the center of the road, and Mr. Tipton seeing that there would be a head-on collision with his lighter machine, drove far to the right hand side of the road, the machine plunging down the rocky bank into the lake, when the right wheel slipped over the edge of the bank. The paved road is only a few feet from the water's edge at this point.

Lee Is Hero

while the driver of the machine responsible for the near fatal accident, turned on more gas and sped away. Brady Lee was in a machine passing the scene of the accident. He saw the machine plunge down the lake bank and hurried to the water's edge to see if he could be of assistance. Young Lee asked men gathered on the bank if they were going in, and when they replied in the negative he said, "Get out of the way then and let me get in." He plunged in with his clothes on and made for the child, who was more than ten feet from shore. He did not reach the child before it started down for the third time. To get hold of the child, Lee dived, and fortunately caught his arm around the child's neck. The father had reached the surface and was yelling for someone to save his boy. The father managed to get ashore without assistance.

It was fortunate that both were not caught in the machine. The young child, who has a crippled left leg, is thought to have been thrown out as the machine went down the top, or top supports, of the machine at least twice before he got free of the machine.

About seven o'clock last night a group of New Boston men with block and tackle pulled the machine from the lake and the pile. This morning it was removed to the Universal garage for repairs.

PORTER BALKS PLANS OF PRISONER WHO HAD PLANNED TO ESCAPE FROM CITY PRISON

Everett Adkins, who with his brother, William Adkins, is being held at the police station in connection with a series of robberies on Hilltop early last Friday morning, balked at plans to escape from the city prison. His plans were frustrated when the colored porter entered the cell in which he was being kept, in the upstairs of the jail, and found that he had torn a blanket and made a rope out of it. It is presumed by the police that he intended to throw the rope out the window and in this way escape from the prison, or to slide down on the rope and gain his freedom. This is the same method that was used by William Judd, who was caught in an attempted robbery at the Hibbs Hardware store some time ago. Adkins was taken from the upstairs and placed behind the bars in the regular prison, where there is little chance of anyone making an escape, Chief Arthur said Monday.

Hughes Addresses Attorneys In London

LONDON, July 21.—Secretary Hughes, speaking today at welcoming exercises for the American Bar Association at Westminster Hall, declared the American delegates had come to England rejoicing in an amity which had become a fixed habit of two peoples intent on co-operation in the interest of peace.

"Of all international contacts," he said, "none could be happier than this. We have no political ends to serve. No differences to compose, no policies to advance, except the highest of all, the policy of understanding and good will. The fact that we are here is more eloquent than anything we can say here. We come to tighten the bonds of friendship."

ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB TWO HILLTOP HOMES

Thieves Frightened Away From Fred Manning's Home

Thieves were again active on the Hilltop early Monday morning, after apparently being on their good behavior for several weeks. However, they were frightened away from two homes before they could make any haul.

F. L. Manning of 2017 Waller street, reported that he heard burglars in his home about 2 o'clock this morning and that he went down stairs to investigate. The intruders heard him coming and made their getaway. They saw an entrance through a window. Mr. Manning is general manager of the Peoples

Bank Company.
The fact that he is a light sleeper prevented the robbers from making a good haul in his handsome new home.

Later on a thief attempted to force an entrance to the home of A. Gordon, of 1105 Twenty-Second street. Neighbors heard the prowler and scared him away before he could get into the house.

These neighbors who saw the man say he was tall and wore a dark suit. Police were furnished this description and are making an investigation.

HELD UP BY THREE ARMED MEN

Police are making an effort to locate three men who held up and robbed Royce Manning, of 2004 Waller street, in the rear of his home. He was putting his car away about ten o'clock and as he started for his home he was accosted by three armed men with guns. They took all the money he had in his pocket at the time, which amounted to about a dollar in change, and his leather bill fold.

A description could be given of one of the men by Manning as it was very dark and only one man appeared to have a white handkerchief over the lower part of his face. Mr. Manning told the police.

He is of the opinion that the robbery was pulled off by three young men familiar with his neighborhood

Rev. Charles R. Hugh, pastor of M. E. church of Wheelersburg in behalf of the Ku Klux Klan.
Dr. J. H. Harris conducted the financial rally in which $800 plus was raised in cash and subscription. The Ku Klux Klan had a part in the offering to the extent of $50 and promised another check to follow.

The pastor expressed his appreciation of all who had had a part in the work of making the church a possibility. He next read a table of contents to be deposited in the cornerstone.

At this time Mrs. D. H. Dally of Portsmouth rendered a very beautiful and appropriate vocal solo.

Dr. Harris laid the cornerstones with impressive ceremony.

The pastor pronounced the benediction.
The band played "Star Spangled Banner," the congregation saluted the beautiful American flag carried by the standard bearer of the Klan organization and returned to their homes.

AUTO HITS CURBING; TURNS OVER; FIVE ARE INJURED

Five persons were injured, but none seriously, Sunday when a Ford machine driven by H. R. Parsons of 13 Glover street turned over after bumping into the curbing of Second and Offshore streets Sunday.

Those injured were H. R. Parsons, his daughter Dollie, aged 4, his nephew, Emanuel Smith, and two nieces, Eunice and Josephine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith of Front street. They suffered painful cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken.

Mr. Parsons was driving east on Second and when another car approached his daughter Dollie grabbed his arm and this caused Mr. Parsons to veer the car sharply to the right, with the result that it collided with the curbing and turned over.

Despite the fact the children were thrown on a concrete sidewalk, they were not badly injured. Mr. Parsons is just learning to drive and the machine, which was badly damaged, is owned by his brother, R. D. Parsons, of Front street.

If All Else Has Failed, Try Pepgen, Says Taylor

Mr. Charles Taylor of 216 Vine street, while talking recently with the expert now at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, introducing this famous herbal medicine, told how Pepgen had relieved him of stomach trouble after many other remedies had failed.

"I have told several of my friends," said Mr. Taylor, "to get a bottle of Pepgen. It will do them good even though all other medicines have failed."

"For months I was troubled with a sour stomach, and attacks of gas and bloating after my meals. I scarcely had any appetite and what I did eat would not agree with me."

"My nerves were all shot too. I never did get a good night's sleep."

"Then I heard so many people talking about Pepgen. I did not have much faith in it doing me any good, but I got a bottle. Before the first bottle was gone I felt lots better."

"Now I can eat enough for two people and it does not bother me at all. I sleep sound, too, and in the morning I don't wake up with a headache and a sour taste in my mouth like I used to."

"Pepgen is a good medicine I know and I am glad to tell other people about it."

The genuine Pepgen may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, cor. 6th & Chillicothe Sts., Kelo Pharmacy, New Boston. Advertisement.

John Ainsley Master Thief

Copyright 1924. NEA Service Inc.

BU-TION, BU-TION

BEGIN HERE TODAY

John Ainsley, a man of education and breeding, became a master crook—preying upon other thieves. At Monte Carlo he learned that some clever thief has stolen a pearl necklace from the Baroness d'Esterville.

Ainsley overhears a man posing as a Russian prince offer the use of his hotel apartment to a young Englishman and his American bride, who have just left the casino at roulette. Later the prince brings hotel attendants to the apartment, claiming that the young Englishman has stolen his keys. The prince offers to free the Englishman if he is allowed to take the young bride on a motor trip. This brings on a fight. Later the prince blames the charges. Ainsley wonders what is the matter of the prince's suit.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

For I had no more desire to face a court, even in the role of witness, than I suspected the Prince had to stand before a judge as complainant. And if I offered testimony in support of the young Englishman, such a plot was so flimsy, so vicious, that not even the Monseigneur, willing to wink their eyes at almost any offense, if scandal could be thus averted, could ignore this. The French, for all that is written about their morals, have a respect for wifehood. They would hesitate that the Prince be brought to trial for conspiracy, and I would have to testify in court.

So while I had no intention of permitting the Prince to be deported under circumstances that would forever stain his name, I waited. There might be only one way of skinning this particular polecat, but I suspected that there might be another.

And so, two hours later, when all the hotel guests, probably, young Bedford, I entered the Prince's room. I walked silently. Also my movements were quiet. I picked the lock without difficulty, and passed through the door. I found myself in a living-room, at the far side of which was an open door, through which I heard voices. I tip-toed, I crept through and entered the bedroom. A night-light was burning, and by its rays I could distinguish the screen behind which I had heard the Prince tell Bedford, was a trunk. Now that trunk had unquestionably contained a cash-box. But if it did, it contained anything of value, would the Prince have rashly handed the Englishman his keys? If, for instance, the trunk had contained evidence which would indicate that its owner possessed unprincipled habits, would the Prince have given up the keys?

This action of mine was based on the theory, none too logically acquired, that the Prince was in support of my theory, my natural visit would be not merely dangerous but useless. And it was silly to look for evidence in the trunk.

If the Prince was what I thought him to be, in support of my belief, would be found only upon his person. And it is a difficult thing to search a sleeping man without awakening him. Nevertheless I did it. And having done so, I saggedly clipped from his great black band a bit of his precious whiskers. Then I returned to my room.

Three minutes later I had broken two chairs, overturned a dressing-table, and smashed a pane of glass in the window. Also, I shouted at the top of my lungs, and had aroused the valet de chambre who slept in a cubbyhole at the end of the corridor. He had aroused the night-clerk, and to these latter and to the porter who accompanied them, I poured forth my tale of nocturnal crime.

"I was awakened by the sound of footsteps. I saw a huge figure by the side of my bed. I attacked him. We fought. He held me, the condition of my room."

"I was awakened by the sound of footsteps. I saw a huge figure by the side of my bed. I attacked him. We fought. He held me, the condition of my room."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—What length of time does a week-end party include, and how should one word the invitations for such an affair? Can you suggest any form of entertainment for a week-end party? I live a short distance from the city.

SUBURBANITE.

The week-end party means a visit from Friday afternoon, or Saturday morning, until Sunday night or Monday morning. The hostess in her invitation usually mentions the time she expects her guests. The invitation also differs from any other form of invitation, in that it is informal. It is also courteous for her to mention the sports that will be indulged in and any special events planned for the occasion. Here is a letter of invitation, which may be altered to suit your own purpose:

Dear Miss Jones:

We have planned a house party for next week-end and we are particularly anxious that you join us. I hope there is nothing to prevent you from coming out to Pine Rock Friday afternoon, July 18, and remaining with us until Monday morning. I hope to have a number of your own friends, including Marie Brown and Julia Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Blank may also be here, along with Helen Dale and guests from Chicago, whom I am anxious to have you meet.

There is a train leaving town at 3:40, or you may take an early morning train as you prefer. We will expect you for dinner at eight-thirty. If you will let me know which train you expect to take, I will see that there is a car at the station to meet you.

Very cordially yours,

ALICE M. DEAN.

If you live in the country, there are hikes that may be planned, with a gypsy tea at the end of the trail in some pretty spot. If there are tennis courts, that would be a merry source of entertainment. Also swimming may be included. A lawn party for the evening would be pleasant, and other guests could be included.

Dear Miss Wise—How much should a girl weigh when she is five feet, four inches tall? Also, what will take mildew out of a dress? Please answer soon.

MISS WANTS-TO-KNOW.

Weight is usually governed by the age of person who is perfectly normal. Tell me your age and I can tell you what you should weigh. Rub the spots with lemon juice and put in the sun and wash as usual. Repeat if not successful.

Dear Dolly—You have helped so many others, may I ask you a few questions?

What is the easiest way to destroy superfluous hair?

Is buttermilk soap good for the skin?

What is the best cleansing cream? What kind of shampoo is the best for the hair? INQUIRITIVE.

Get a standard dipulator powder at the drug store and follow directions.

Buttermilk soap is good for most skins. It is well to use pure buttermilk once in a while, too, to whiten the skin.

The druggist will recommend a good cleansing cream. The theatrical cleansing cream, which comes in tin boxes, is excellent. I like liquid green soap for shampooing. Put a little in a cup of hot water and use as any other soap. It is good for eliminating dandruff also.

Maurice—You will have to send me a stamped, addressed envelope for the information you desire. Can you hang me anyone publishing a letter containing the information you wrote? I will tell you all about it if you write me.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me what will remove rust spots from a huck towel. I haven't washed it until I can find out something that will take out the spots.

A. G.

Rub the spots with lemon and salt, being sure that spots are well soaked. Lay on the grass in the sun. When dry, wash as usual. Repeat if necessary.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

A MIX-UP

"Looks what I got!" cried Cutie.

The next day Cutie Cottontail woke up bright and early. That was really one reason why he went to bed so early the night before.

And he got dressed in a hurry and slipped on the trousers his mother had mended for him. But he never had mended for him. He had never thought of looking in the pockets. If he had, he might have saved himself a whole lot of trouble later.

He wanted to show the lucky brass ring he had got on the merry-go-round at Happy Go Lucky Park to all of his friends.

Then after that he was going to the park and get his free ride, which the brass ring entitled him to.

You had to be pretty smart to get the brass ring. It stuck pretty hard and you had to pull like everything.

"I'll go and show Ben and Billy Bunny first," he said. "They'll never believe me if I didn't show it to them! I'll—why, hello, here, what's this?" he cried, picking something up from the front porch. "Why, it's my brass ring! How did it ever get out here? I must have dropped it when I was coming in last night. Lucky I found it before I got too far away."

So he put it into his pocket, not knowing that it was the very certain ring his mother had been looking for and which she had dropped when the postman came.

Away he went whistling to the Bunny house.

Ben and Billy were just up. "Looksee what I got!" cried Cutie, holding up the brass ring.

"Let's see! What is it? Where'd you get it? Gee! Aren't you lucky, though!" was what they said and Cutie was prouder than ever.

"Yes," he admitted. "It was pretty hard work but I got it just the same."

"Wish I wuz you," said Billy. "So do I," said Ben.

If you could hire half your washing done for 3 1/3 cents

Where is the woman who wouldn't be overjoyed to get rid of half the work on wash-day for a sum as tiny as this? One-third of a package of La France dissolved with your soap, and two operations are cut from the washing. No rubbing—no bluing.

With La France, you just soak or boil the clothes, then rinse and wring, and the clothes are ready to dry. It blues as it cleans. And what a gloriously white and sweet-smelling wash!

Use it with any soap you like—bar, powder or flakes—in tubs or washing machine. All the sticky, greasy dirt that resists even the best of soap when used alone simply floats away when La France, too, is used. Buy La France from your grocer to-day. It is only 10 cents a package.

For ironing, use Satina. Add it to the hot starch, and your iron won't stick. Gives the clothes a lovelier gloss and imparts to them a delightful perfume. La France Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia.

Only 3 1/3 cents each wash-day for this wonderful product that does away with all the drudgery of washing. For boiler, tubs or washing machine.

Democrats

not that type of man. Neither is the Democratic standard bearer. The personality of each man is expected to have a distinct bearing upon the result, but there is a vast difference between personality and personalities. The speeches of acceptance will be amplifications of the party platform. Mr. Coolidge's views are fairly well known. Therefore, the greater public interest is likely to center in the Davis address for the country is looking to him for a clear-cut expression of just where he stands on many public issues.

President Coolidge will have a number of difficult obstacles to skirt in his address, just as the Republican platform makers at Cleveland had to step rather lively in turning some of the sharp corners. Mr. Coolidge will have the same difficulties that the platform makers had in dealing with the record of last Congress, the leaders of which did so much to thwart the executive program. The general impression seems to be that Mr. Coolidge will appeal to the country to give him a Congress with which he can work. It is possible, of course, for the Republicans to get a working majority in the house for all the members of that body must come up for re-election in November. But the case of the senate seems hopeless. It will take years to get some of the recalcitrants out of that body if ever it is rid of them.

Just here Mr. Davis is expected to make a most telling attack upon the Republican record. He will attempt to show that President Coolidge was either unable or unwilling to force his will upon congress and that legislation was possible only through Democratic and Progressive channels. He will argue that if the Democrats are given control of congress as well as the presidency, the country may look for cohesion at Washington and a general spirit of pulling together for the welfare of the country.

Already the preliminary Democratic "keynotes" have indicated this line of attack and it will be a difficult one for the Republicans to meet. Of course Mr. Davis will dwell upon the alleged corruption "in high places" at Washington, but the oil scandals and other revelations at the capital will not cut the figure in the campaign that was originally supposed.

Meantime Messrs. Davis and Coolidge have been getting the usual "good news" handed out by aspiring politicians to the party standard bearers. Candidates always have to put up with this sort of thing. Mr. Davis has been told that the Democrats will carry Pennsylvania and Mr. Coolidge has been advised the Republicans are likely to carry the solid south. Both Mr. Davis and Mr. Coolidge are "assured" of Indiana. Both will get Illinois and both will get Ohio.

Mr. Coolidge grimly bears all of the "good news." Mr. Davis smiles engagingly at the talk of the prophets and the sons of prophets. The open season for political prognostication is on. It will not close until the ballots fly with the snows of early November.

Upon his arrival there he will put it in finished form. His friends predict a vigorous handling of the major problems of the day, including foreign affairs and farm relief as well as other domestic questions. Honesty in government, they believe, will be a paramount subject.

Loeb, Leopold

Young Leopold was called to the bench and pleaded guilty. Loeb followed and did likewise.

"It is your understanding that if you plead guilty to murder in this court, the court may sentence you to death or to the penitentiary for the period of your natural life, or for a period of not less than fourteen years?" Judge Caverly asked.

"I understand," Leopold answered, "I am quivering, his eyes dropping to the floor."

"Yes, I understand," Loeb answered, looking directly at the judge.

"With this understanding do you still wish to plead guilty?" the judge asked.

"I do," Leopold answered.

"I do," Loeb echoed.

Darrow advised the court that before the boys are sentenced he wishes to present evidence to the court and the sentencing of the young college graduates probably will be delayed for several days.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who was in court in person with a large staff of assistants, was taken completely by surprise but did not contest the action.

Both sides announced they would be ready for presentation of evidence on Wednesday, July 23.

Benjamin Hahn, aiding Darrow, announced that the defense wished to introduce testimony of certain alienists who have examined Leopold and Loeb in order to show the court "the degree of responsibility" of the defendants.

Believing the defense was attempting to prove the boys insane, Crowe broke in, shouting:

"Just a minute, your honor," Crowe cried.

"The defense in this case is trying to show that these boys are insane, how can they come into this court and legally plead guilty?"

State Demands That Prisoners Must Hang

At 8 a. m. fully 1,000 people were in line with thousands more expected to battle for a glimpse of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaire youth, who confessed to killing Robert Franks, 14 year old school boy, "Just for a thrill."

Court Building Heavily Guarded
The dingy criminal court building, a relic of another generation, was carefully guarded by scores of special police officers and court bailiffs.

Remembering how the crowds battered the doors from their hinges when Leopold and Loeb were issued to keep crowds from the floor on which the court room is located. None will be allowed to stand in the court.

The court room itself was in readiness. Reserved seats for more than 100 newspaper reporters, special correspondents, and feature writers were roped off.

Telegraphic instruments equipped with noiseless sounders, were operating.

Was There Big Crowd at Raceland Saturday? Answer

THIS PICTURE SHOWS THE VAST GRANDSTAND AS IT WAS PACKED WITH SPECTATORS SATURDAY AND THE HUGE CROWD, WHICH LINED THE POST RAIL. YES, DERBY DAY WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

A Typical Scene at the Raceland Track Last Saturday

This picture shows the jumpers returning to their quarters after an exciting race had been run. The "fence" birds are there to size up each horse as it filed past them.

Post Scribe Panned for Taking Rap at Raceland

Duke Ridgley, well known and versatile sporting editor of the Huntington Herald Dispatch, in commenting on the attendance at Raceland Saturday, said:

"Saturday's record-breaking attendance of 20,000 or more paid admissions shows that Huntington, Ashland, Ironton, Portsmouth, Catlettsburg, Greenup and other surrounding cities want racing of the high caliber that is being offered them by Manager J. O. (Jack) Keene and his associates. The Derby Day crowd was the most representative that ever witnessed a sporting event of any kind in the Tri-State region or the Ohio Valley.

"Too bad that Bob Dorman, the wise-cracking racing editor of the Cincinnati Post, was not among those present to see for himself that Raceland is here for keeps. Dorman is the young gent who recently broke into print by saying that Raceland would be lucky to last through the first summer. That the Greenup County plant was only a dream, and a BAD dream, at that. He also stated that the people of this section didn't know a race horse when they saw one; that they didn't know what Raceland was all about. He called us tight-wads, green-horns and a few other little things.

Mr. Dorman predicted that the new Greenup county plant would soon explode like a toy balloon when you stick a pin in it. Dorman has resided in Cincinnati all his life. He thinks that the city limits of the world are within a stone's throw of Fountain Square. General Manager Jack Keene should see that the Queen City turf expert is mailed a season ticket to Raceland. Dorman's hammer throwing has been the biggest boost that the new track could possibly receive. Dorman and his hammer should have been at the Olympic games.

Tigers Twiddle Thumbs While Yankees Increase Their Lead

NEW YORK, July 21.—Boston's Sunday blue laws helped the Yankees to steal a march on Detroit by copping a double header from Cleveland, while the Tigers were forced to twiddle their thumbs in the Hub. The result is that New York today faces Cobb's climbers in the first of what promises to be a "rip-snorting" series, with a lead of a game and a half.

Washington also took advantage of the Yankees' idleness to advance to within one game of the second place.

The first Cleveland-New York game was a real battle until the eighth inning, when the Yankees scored three runs and practically clinched the game, the final score of which was 4 to 1.

The world champions roused to an easy win in the second engagement, hammering Young, Dawson and McEwain for 10 runs against the Indians' 4.

In the only other American League contest Washington snatched a 5-to-4 triumph out of St. Louis' grasp.

A Portsmouth nine made up of players from the All Stars and Grinnell's Specials played in Ironton Sunday and lost a 6 to 4 battle to the Triangles, the newly organized tri-state nine, composed mainly of Ironton and Russell players. The hitting of Keene and Ferrell for Portsmouth and Ferrell and Ferrell for the winners and the all around fielding of George Staten at second featured the contest. The box score:

Ruth Boosts Walter Johnson

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, July 21.—"Walter Johnson is the ideal pitcher," says Babe Ruth, baseball's greatest slugger. Prior to his reign as the "King of Swat," Ruth was the premier south-paw pitcher of the American League. All of which qualifies him as an expert in judging pitchers.

"The fans think only of Johnson's great speed as a pitcher, when as a matter of fact he is the most finished all-around performer in the major leagues.

"With his speed, Johnson has a fine curve, a good slow ball and a great change of pace. That's enough for any pitcher.

"Incidentally, Johnson is probably the best fielding pitcher in the American League. Washington has five infielders with him working.

"Unlike most great pitchers, Johnson is a fine batsman. He hits 'em hard and is dangerous in the pinch. The averages show him around the .300 mark.

"That is why I call Johnson the ideal pitcher. He can do everything well."

COLUMBUS, O., July 21.—(By the United Press)—Approximately 15,000 followers of the late Pastor C. T. Russell were on hand today for the official opening of the seven-day convention of the International Bible Students' Association.

Teachings that "millions now living will never die" and that the dawn of the millennium will appear during the present generation, are to be distributed throughout the week in separate meetings and in half a dozen different languages.

Religious strife between the Ku Klux Klan and the Catholic church is in line with the prophecy of the scriptures and preages the millennium, J. F. Rutherford, of New York, president of the association and successor to the late Pastor Russell, declared last night in a preliminary rally.

Thousands of delegates to the convention came by auto and in omnibuses in the state fair grounds district.

Fifteen special trains from all parts of the United States brought Bible students to the meetings.

Thursday has been set apart as Field Day, devoted to converting new followers.

On Saturday 100 persons are to be immersed at a huge baptismal service at Indianola Park swimming pool.

Navy To Keep Watch as Flyers Complete Trip

NEWPORT, R. I., July 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The navy today began its task of keeping watch over the air while the army world flyers soar over the Atlantic on the homeward leg of their journey.

The ship of Rear Admiral Thomas P. McGruder, commanding the light cruiser squadron slipped out of this port today, the advance guard of about a dozen naval vessels, which will be stationed along the route of the aviators from England to Scotland and thence by way of the Orkney Islands, American continent on the Black Coast of Labrador and across New Foundland and Nova Scotia to Boston.

The destroyer Flotilla now at Newport, also will depart some time this week to assist in the work.

The Milwaukee now at Halifax, will distribute supplies to the various points where the flyers are scheduled to stop.

By this method the navy department hopes to be in continuous touch by radio with the men who are making history in the air. The installation in England of sending and receiving apparatus on the flag plane will enable Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the highest commander to communicate at all times with Admiral McGruder on the Richmond or with others of the war craft along the line.

If the late schedule drawn up for the homing planes is carried out they will drop into the more or less sheltered waters of Indian Bay, Labrador, on August 17. Four days later they should reach Victoria, B. C. and after a brief stop, proceed to Boston and thence down the coast to Washington and
